

NEWS & NUMBERS | NOVEMBER 11, 2019

Canada

- S&P/TSX Composite rose 1.71% on the week, led by the Energy sector which gained 7.40%.
- Canada's employment was essentially flat (-1.8K) according to the Labour Force Survey. The jobless rate remained unchanged at 5.5% with the participation rate remaining also unchanged at 65.7%. Public sector jobs were up (+29K) but it was more than offset by losses in self-employed (-29K) and the private sector (-3K).

United States

- The S&P 500 Index gained 0.85%.
- In October, the ISM Non-Manufacturing Index rebounded to 54.7 from a three-year low of 52.6 the month before. The increase reflected higher readings for business activity new orders and employment. The overall improvement of the ISM is a good sign as it suggests industries operating in the services sector continued to expand in early Q4, compensating for the weakness observed in the manufacturing sector.
